Here is what past attendees are saying about Rich Redmond's "Drummer's Weekend"

"Rich taught me that enthusiasm and passion are contagious. I have been in bands and playing in front of people since I was 11, and have since reached a whole new level after living the CRASH life. I would highly recommend the Drummer's Weekend to anyone who is serious about drumming!"— Cody Hawkins, Age 17, Upstate New York

"When dreaming of a career as a professional drummer; you think so much about your chops, skills, and proficiency behind the kit. Redmond's "Drummers Weekend" not only addresses this, but all the other important facets of being a working musician; your attitude, work ethic, versatility, and preparedness. The key to achieving any goal is to dream big, and dream with FOCUS. Having 3 days of hands on time with the best in the business taught me exactly what to expect, and how to best live my dream." – Jimmy Elcock, Drummer and Bandleader, Jamie Lynn Spears

"I have had the pleasure of attending Rich Redmond's first annual Crash Course for Success Drummer's Weekend last year and was blow away with the entire experience. Not only did I walk away as a better player, but I was also given invaluable insight on what it really takes to make it in the music business. 6 months after attending I landed my first professional gig as a musician and owe a lot of it to the concepts I learned throughout this course. This was easily one of the best business decisions I made for myself as a musician. Thanks Rich!" – Dan Mahoney Jr., Chicago, IL
